that would cause a whole other set of problems, and it would explain a lot of things, because she’s a little no kidding, the greatest plot of all time the paths through the mounds of furniture are narrow and twisty, but I know them by heart